

LINDEN NEIGHBORHOOD COLLABORATIVE

Motivated by its Christian Commitment to seek just living conditions for all people, St. Patrick Catholic Church organized the St. Patrick Neighborhood Housing Development Corporation in 1988. Its mission was to promote home ownership and neighborhood community revitalization and to act as a catalyst in the community by facilitating development, renewal and other community services activities aimed at addressing the alleviation of community deterioration and poverty.

LINDEN NEIGHBORHOOD COLLABORATIVE

St. Patrick Neighborhood Housing Development Corporation received its Community Housing Development Organization (CHDO) designation from the City of Memphis in 1993. As part of its housing plan, the organization rehabilitated and constructed nine (9) houses for home ownership in the L.E. Brown neighborhood. After the success in the L.E. Brown neighborhood, St. Patrick CDC turns its attention to planning a major housing initiative for Pontotoc Street. During the Phase I process, St. Patrick Neighborhood Housing Development Corporation completed and sold five (5) new construction homes to low-income families.

After an organization restructure in 2000, St. Patrick Neighborhood Housing Development Corporation formally changed its name to Linden Neighborhood Collaborative.

LINDEN NEIGHBORHOOD COLLABORATIVE

Linden Neighborhood Collaborative is currently completing construction of five (5) homes as part of Phase II of Pontotoc Place Initiative. The active area for LNC includes the L.E. Brown neighborhood and the Pontotoc / Lauderdale neighborhood
